

CONSUMER ENGAGEMENT CONSULTATION SERVICE

USE THIS SERVICE TO LEARN
HOW TO INCLUDE CONSUMERS
IN YOUR RESEARCH

This service supports researchers who would like to know more about how to include consumers in the design and implementation of their research. Including the perspectives of consumers is best practice in SCI research and is increasingly required in order to secure funding through grants. However, it is not always clear how researchers might approach this in their own projects. The Consumer Engagement Consultation service provides guidance about the ways in which consumers might be involved in different stages of the research process.
